Dubai Falcon Racing Team is out of this world, but very much at home. They are a team of united pilots, a conglomeration of UAE identities equipped with futuristic vision and a mission—racing. Their style of driving varies from the others but what sets them really apart is their goal—to be better than the best. It is not only their driving abilities that makes them special but the way they collaborate and cooperate as a team. The harmony between team members and the mutual respect garnered raises the spirit of the team to an optimum. The point when the helmets are on and the command sounds: "Gentlemen Start your Engines", the team becomes alive—light as a feather and fast as the wind. Sometimes it's not only winning the race that is important, but also how it is won.

LUKOIL Racing Team represents LUKOIL - one of the major international oil and gas companies that accounts for more than 2% of the world's oil production and around 1% of the proven hydrocarbon reserves. While having the full production cycle, the company exercises full control over the whole production chain — from oil and gas production to petroleum product sales.

Every day millions of consumers in more than 30 countries worldwide buy LUKOIL's products, energy and heat, improving the quality of their life. In the Middle East LUKOIL has exploration and production facilities in Iraq and Egypt and plans to expand its operations to the other countries of the region.

LUKOIL Racing Team participated in the Dubai Kartdrome Endurance Championship for the first time in 2013. Since then the team didn't miss even a single race. The company and the team share the same slogan: "LUKOIL – Always moving forward!"

It's no coincidence that a Russian team is among the race competitors. As early as the nineteenth century the great Russian writer Nikolay Gogol wrote: "What Russian is there who does not love fast driving?" And karting is the first step to bigger motorsports, the world of love for speed and fair play!

Initiative

Team IUM "Initiative-Universal Media" is a corporate-based team that traces back to 2013 when it was called Initiative Racing. After going out of the endurance scene for almost two years, IUM Racing team was created with a number of mixed drivers from both agencies.

All drivers within the team have experience in sprint and endurance racing, which makes IUM a team to watch out for in the Corporate category and we're hoping to achieve top places for the upcoming 2017 Dubai Kartdrome Endurance Championship.

Redline Racing is a team that started back in February last year with the 24H Endurance race at Bahrain.

All drivers work at Saudi Aramco and quickly discovered a powerful love for racing, whether off-road or open track. Kart racing is a common passion for Redline Racing with experience in several endurance competitions over the past year.

The team practices together, develops racing strategies, studies tracks around the world, and consults with regional kart champions— all in an effort to continuously cut their individual lap times.

Redline Racing drivers are looking forward to scorching the track on the next round of the Dubai Endurance Championship!

Although Panasonic Avionics Corporation continues to support Emirates teams, this year they have lodged their own experimental entry which comprises of six colleagues with a range of racing pedigree. This is a truly international team made up of five different nationalities!

Team Captain, Tom, is most familiar with TKM based Club100 series in the UK. Neil has raced in many series from ROTAX in the early days to BMW cars in California recently. Humberto and Gael, both ROTAX kart owners, have experience racing in France. Tim, a Kiwi, has talent on all sorts of wheels, from bikes, to quads and is now an X30 owner driver. Johan, from Belgium, prefers more power and is the proud owner driver of a DD2 found at the Kartdrome.

Although racing primarily for fun, a top five finish in the Corporate class would be a good result.

Crackerjack Racing returns once again to the endurance series with our expectations matched only by our driving talent. In previous events we aimed to showcase cutting edge driving skills and best in class tactics, but experience is a cruel teacher and for this race our aim is simply not to finish last! We believe like the great Confucius, that beauty and poetry is achieved at a slow pace, not by a foolish rush to the finish line.

Note: The team offers its unreserved apology for making false and misleading statements in the previous race biography when we stated that we had an experienced and world class pit crew. Regrettably, we discovered none had been to a karting track before or even seen a go kart. However, after a few Spinney's best cheese sandwiches and some super precise (i.e. lucky) pit changes, the magic finally happened!

Gentlemen? Racers? Gentlemen-racers? None of these terms have been used to describe this motley crew of mixed backgrounds and wannabee F1 Drivers.

The Aussies (Damian and Adrian) are former business partners as crocodile hunters and game keepers. The Irishman (Fergal) is sometimes referred to as the Leprechaun or the Lucky Charm. There's second tallest man in Estonia and ex-surfing champion (Heiki) and finally the smiling Pakistani (Imran) who can be seeing playing the piano or juggling in the pit lane to calm his nerves. Combined, this is the most awesome racerz that will ever come before your eyes.

This team's shared passion is racing and making sure they have as much fun as possible along the way. Come experience it yourself in the pit lane, but when the flag drops the joking stops.
